HISTORY OF SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY

The Suffolk University School of Law, the first unit of the University, was established in September, 1906, to provide professional training for ambitious young men and women of moderate means. In 1914 the school was chartered with degree-granting powers by the Legislature of Massachusetts.

Educational facilities have been expanded in the belief that training in the liberal arts and sciences is an integral part of a balanced education. The College of Liberal Arts was founded in 1934, the Graduate School of Law in 1935, the College of Journalism in 1936, and the College of Business Administration in 1937. The various departments were incorporated by the Massachusetts Legislature in April, 1937.

Suffolk University, although primarily a day-time institution, was the first college in New England at which a student might earn a Bachelor of Arts degree entirely through evening study.

Physical growth of the University was accompanied by professional recognition: Suffolk is a member of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The College Departments are approved by the Board of Collegiate Authority, Department of Education, Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The Law School is approved by the American Bar Association. The Veterans Administration approves all courses for GI benefits.

Located on Beacon Hill, directly behind the State House, and a block from the building housing the Supreme Judicial, Superior, Probate, Land and Municipal courts, Suffolk University provides excellent accommodations for educational work. In the University building are the Executive and Administrative offices; University Library; classrooms; completely equipped and modern laboratories for biology, chemistry, geology, and physics; University Auditorium; Bookstore; and appropriate lounges for students.

Although the physical equipment of a university is important, the quality of its educational program is even more significant. The true measure of a university is reflected in the record of its graduates. Early in its history, Suffolk University gained recognition for the quality of its faculty and the success of its graduates. Judges, lawyers, bankers, businessmen, educators, and leaders in political and civic life owe their advancement to the quality of training received at Suffolk University.

THE LAW LIBRARY

The Law Library, containing over twenty thousand volumes, is located on the third floor of the University and is part of the University Library. By yearly appropriations and gifts from Alumni, it is constantly increasing its collection.

The Library includes all of the reported decisions of all the states, the National Reporter System, reports of all the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States and other Federal courts, reports of selected Federal Administrative Agencies, the American Digest, Corpus Juris, Corpus Juris Secundum, American Jurisprudence and American Law Reports. It contains a full set of English reports and a large collection of legal periodicals, textbooks and casebooks.

With regard to statutory material, the Library has the United States Statutes at Large, the United States Code Annotated, all the compilations of the Massachusetts statutes, the Annotated Laws of Massachusetts, the statutes of the New England and other selected states.

The Law Library is open from 9:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M. Monday through Friday, and 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Saturday.

Nearby the University and easily accessible to law students is the Massachusetts State Library, a 600,000 volume collection, containing many state papers, legislative materials, and other legal research aids.

Also available for student use is the Public Library of the City of Boston. This library is one of the largest in the world, containing about two million volumes. It has an extensive collection of United States documents. To enjoy the use of this library, non-resident students must first obtain a special permit from the Librarian of the Public Library.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

The method of instruction in Suffolk University Law School combines the study of cases and texts with lectures designed to develop legal reasoning and a knowledge of principles and rules. The competent practice of the law demands an ability to analyze complicated fact situations, as well as a knowledge of legal principles and a trained power of legal reasoning.

Successful study of the law depends upon the power of the student to acquire the skilled lawyer's mode of thought—the legal mind. Students will be aided so far as possible to develop lawyer-like ability in analysis, reasoning and expression, and to acquire an integrated understanding of related fields of law. Problems are assigned to all first year students for training in legal thought, research and writing. The students' papers are subsequently criticized rigorously as to legal substance, clearness and force of expression, and the elements of good literary form, so as to develop the art of drafting convincing forensic expressions.

MOOT COURT

This course, required of all students, was established with the view to affording experience in practice, pleading and evidence, in the belief that the law student should begin his practical experience in the law school and not encounter it for the first time after he has been admitted to the Bar.

The Court System consists of four Courts, the Supreme Judicial Court, the Superior Court, a Probate Court and a District Court. The jurisdiction of these Courts is based upon that of the like Courts of Massachusetts. Each of the Courts has a student Clerk.

Practice in these Courts is conducted strictly in accordance with the laws, statutes and rules of courts of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the aim being to teach pleading, practice and evidence by experience supplementing class work in these subjects. It is also intended to give the student a working knowledge of court address and develop in him a sense of professional responsibility.

Student counsel draw their own writs and other process, have them served by the Moot Court Sheriff, and return them to the Clerk's Office, as required by the statutes and rules of courts of the Commonwealth. Each counsel drafts and files his own pleadings and other papers at or within the times fixed by law. Failure to do so entails the consequences which would follow such failure in the actual litigation. Counsel for the parties act independently of each other in the preparation of pleadings and of the case for trial. Cases are placed on Trial Lists, and must be heard when reached unless reasons are presented adequate to satisfy the Court to grant postponement.

The student is encouraged to make his experience as extensive as possible by filing, when proper, demurrers, motions to dismiss, pleas, special answers, interrogatories, affidavits of no cause of action or of no defense, motions for directed verdicts, requests for instructions, motions for new trials, appeals, bills of exceptions and reports. Sessions of the Courts are held for interlocutory matters. Actual trials are held before juries impaneled from the student body or in jury waived sessions.

In all respects, the effort is to approximate as nearly as possible the experience which the young lawyer will have in his first years at the Bar whether practicing by himself or as a Junior in a law office.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The Wig and Robe Society is an organization to membership in which all male students in the Law School are eligible. It maintains club rooms in close proximity to the School in which it has the reports of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth, the Federal Reports, Corpus Juris, text books and other legal material available to its membership. Guest lecturers are procured to speak on problems of the law. It is an aim of the Society to foster a closer unity between students, Faculty and alumni.

Students participate in programs such as the Legal Internship initiated by the office of the Middlesex County District Attorney, a pioneer program of student training in this region, and the Estate Planning Contest, sponsored by the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company.

A list of student activities sponsored by the University, open to qualified students in the Law School, is printed in the Suffolk University College Bulletin. Maintenance of a satisfactory scholastic standard is a prerequisite for participation in such activities.

PLACEMENT OFFICE

The University maintains a placement office under the direction of a full time placement director. Its facilities are available to undergraduates and graduates of the Law School.

THE SUFFOLK LAW SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

This is a large and active organization of former students now on the Bench or at the Bar of the New England states. The Fall, Winter, and Spring dinners each year at Boston's famed Parker House bring noted jurists, leading lawyers, and other distinguished speakers for addresses on current legal problems. It maintains the ALUMNI FUND from annual contributions of its members which provides for scholarships and other needs of the Law School.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Alumni Fund Scholarships

These scholarships have been established by the Suffolk University Law School Alumni Association, and are awarded each year to students on the basis of scholarship, character and need. During the year 1956-1957, twenty-one students received these scholarships for all or part of the annual tuition fee. A limited number of these scholarships are available to entering first year day and evening students.

Steinberg Scholarship

The Steinberg Scholarship, established by Louis H. Steinberg of 1925, consists of the income of 60 shares of U. S. Steel Corporation stock and 120 shares of Bethlehem Steel Corporation stock and is awarded annually to that senior in the evening division of the school who has the highest average for the three preceding years.

Fairchild Scholarship

The Fairchild Scholarship, established in 1926, by Mrs. Julian D. Fairchild of Brooklyn, N. Y., in memory of her late husband, yields an income of $100 a year, and is awarded to some member of the freshman class on the basis of scholarship, character and need.

The Trustees of the University have established the following full scholarships:

The David I. Walsh Scholarship in memory of the late Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, to be awarded to a graduate of the College of the Holy Cross.

The Louis D. Brandeis Scholarship in memory of the late Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court, to be awarded to a graduate of Brandeis University.

The scholarships include tuition, fees, and books required for the study of law. Each recipient will receive the scholarship for one year, and if he maintains a satisfactory average in the Law School, the scholarship will continue until he receives his degree.

Suffolk University Scholarships

The Trustees of the University have also established four scholarships to be awarded annually to entering first year students from Suffolk University who have maintained high scholastic standing in their college work. These scholarships are to be awarded and continued in the discretion of the Faculty Administrative Committee of the Law School.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Suffolk University Law School accepts as regular students only applicants who have satisfactorily completed at least three-quarters of the credits acceptable for a bachelor's degree from an approved college or university. This complies with the prelegal college educational requirements of the American Bar Association.

A limited number of applicants whose experience and achievement, in the judgment of the Faculty, have qualified them for the study of law despite a lack of sufficient collegiate credits, may be admitted as special students.

Applicants who do not meet the foregoing requirements may consult the Registrar of Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts for a program of day or evening studies which will prepare them for admission to the Law School.

Applicants who may desire to practice law elsewhere than in Massachusetts are advised to interview the secretary of the Board of Bar Examiners of the state intended to determine their eligibility, and to insure their completion of all local requirements. Some states now require such procedures as Law Students Registration, the filing of a Law Student's Qualifying Certificate, and other formalities before the applicant may study law under the rules for admission to the local bar.

RECOMMENDED PRELEGAL STUDY

Since our Law School students come from many universities, the Faculty of the Law School does not specify particular subjects for the prelegal course. However, the prospective law student is advised that a liberal college education is preferred over a narrow and specialized vocational training course.

A thorough grounding in one or more of the usual fields of the arts and sciences such as history, government, philosophy, mathematics, economics, literature or the humanities is most desirable. Proficiency in English, both written and spoken, is essential.

COMBINED DEGREE PROGRAM

Students in Suffolk University's Colleges are eligible to follow the program set forth in the Suffolk University College Bulletin, under which they may receive their college degree upon satisfactory completion of the first year law school subjects as listed in the three year course, whether taken in the day or evening division.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

Applicants for admission will present to the Registrar the following:

1. A completed Application accompanied by the Application Fee of ten dollars. Application Forms may be obtained in person or by mail from the Registrar.
2. Applicants who did not attend Suffolk University will present a transcript from the college (or colleges) previously attended. The transcript should specify courses, the semester when taken, the passing mark, a key to the grades not in percents, and a statement of the high or preparatory school units accepted for entrance.
3. An applicant who has attended another law school will, in addition to the two forms required above, furnish a transcript of his law school record, and a letter of recommendation from its Dean certifying that he is in good standing.

All applications are voted on by the Faculty Administrative Committee. Notification of the action taken will be sent by mail to the applicant at the address given on the application unless otherwise requested in writing.

REGISTRATION

Registration as far as possible is accomplished by mail prior to the commencement of classes. Registration forms will be mailed to applicants who are accepted.

Students who require special course arrangements should make an appointment for a personal interview with the Registrar well in advance of the opening of the semester.

LEGAL APTITUDE TEST

Applicants for admission to Suffolk University Law School are advised, but not required, to take the legal aptitude test conducted by the Educational Testing Service of New Jersey. This test is conducted several times annually in the major cities of the United States. For information and application form write the Educational Testing Service, Post Office Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Examinees should request that the results of the test be forwarded to Suffolk University Law School.

ADVANCED STANDING

Advanced standing toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws may be granted for courses successfully completed in approved law schools in the discretion of the Faculty Administrative Committee, and subject to the following conditions:

1. Applicants for admission with advanced standing for courses taken in another law school must comply with the Requirements for Admission to Suffolk University Law School in operation at the time of admission to the other law school, and must file transcripts of the record of their work in other law schools.
2. Credit will not be granted for any course in which the applicant received a grade below C or the grade which is required by such other law school for the degree. The total advanced standing shall not exceed the credits obtainable in the first and second year's courses of the three-year program or the first three years of the four-year program at Suffolk University Law School.
3. The right is reserved to refuse such credit, or to allow it upon condition or after examination. Credit allowed may be withdrawn for unsatisfactory work at Suffolk University Law School.

DAY AND EVENING DIVISIONS

The courses for the degree of Bachelor of Laws in Suffolk University Law School are offered in day and evening divisions. The three year regular course in the day division is designed for students who are able to devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law. Under the Regulations of the School, and under the Rules of the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, approved by the Supreme Judicial Court, only those students who can devote "substantially all of their working time"* to the study of law, are eligible to complete their law course in the three school years or six semesters.

Students who, because of the necessity of devoting substantial time to outside employment, or other reasons, cannot devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law, may enroll in the part time day division or the evening division and complete their work for the degree in four school years or eight semesters.

The basic subjects in the day and evening divisions are the same, and all students are held to the same academic standards.

GRADUATE COURSES

The program of courses currently being offered for lawyers and graduate students leading to the Master of Laws, LL.M., is described in a special bulletin issued by the Law School, which may be obtained from the Registrar.

For information on other graduate degrees in the arts, sciences, education and other fields, write to the Registrar of Suffolk University.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Suffolk University believes that the development of a well rounded legal education demands a thorough training with special emphasis upon the fundamental branches of the law. It also recognizes that there are other branches, which, while important and essential to the equipment of the lawyer, and valuable from the standpoint of information, are less vital to the understanding of basic principles or to the development of legal reasoning.

The undergraduate curriculum, accordingly, includes courses which all applicants for a degree are required to take and subjects among which a certain degree of election or choice is permitted.
